TRAGIC ACCIDENT OCCURS HERE

An automobile accident about 8 o'clock, Saturday night, November 15, took the life of Lemuel Erwin Nixon, 19, of San Antonio but formerly of Devine, and critically injured Miss Mary Frances Van Fleet, 18, of Hondo. The tragedy occurred on the highway about a mile and a half east of Hondo, when the car driven by young Nixon turned over after being bumped from the rear by a car occupied by several boys, friends of Nixon's and also former residents of Devine.

The injured were rushed to the Medina Hospital, where Nixon died about thirty minutes later of a fractured skull and other injuries. Miss Van Fleet, who at this time is still unconscious and in a serious condition, sustained two deep gashes on the head, one above the left eye and the other at the hairline on the left side, a long but shallow cut on her right side just below the ribs and severe body bruises and scratches.

The body of the young victim remained at the Horgor funeral home here until Sunday afternoon then it was taken to Devine and held there until the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Dee Nixon, the youth's parents, from California. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, at 4 o'clock at the Devine Baptist church and interment was made in Evergreen Cemetery at Devine.

Lem Nixon was employed by the Coca Cola Mfg. Co. of San Antonio at the time of his death. He is survived by his parents, and two sisters, and many other relatives and friends.

CAPTAIN BATOT TRANSFERRED

Capt. Milton J. Batot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Batot of Hondo, was recently transferred to Camp Stewart, Georgia, from New Orleans, La. Stationed in that city for a year, he assisted in drawing plans and supervising the construction of the United States Army's La Garde General Hospital. This hospital covers 100 acres of ground and includes buildings for patients, doctors, nurses, and employees, all kinds of utilities, and everything that needs housing. All streets are paved and the institution is a little city in itself. There the soldiers of the American Army suffering from illness and injury may now be taken for recovery or continued care. After one year in the Army, Capt. Batot was ordered into the service for another year. Mrs. Batot and little daughter, who are residing in Houston, plan to visit him for the Christmas holidays.

The Commissioners' Court of Medina County met in regular session at 10 a. m. Monday, November 10, with all members present. In addition to routine matters, the court transacted the following business:

The quarterly report covering the third quarter of 1941 was received by the court, examined and approved. Warrants issued by the county in the third quarter were also examined, cancelled and ordered paid.

The court voted unanimously to report to the Highway Traffic Advisory Committee to the War Department that all of Medina County's trucks would be voluntarily hired or leased to the government if necessity demands such action, under the National Defense Program. Each commissioner was ordered to report for his respective precinct trucks and the County Judge was instructed to report for the two county trucks used in connection with the court-house improvement project.

The court recessed subject to the call of the County Judge.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met for its program and social meeting in the home of Mrs. H. E. Merriman Wednesday afternoon, November 19, with Mrs. W. H. Smith as co-hostess. The living room and dining room gave a beautiful setting, with their various colors of autumn cut flowers arranged in vases in both rooms, to the interesting program on Peace. The subject was "The Things That Make For Our Peace," conducted by Mrs. O. A. Fly, assisted by Miss Willie D. Fly, Mrs. Barnitz Carle, and Mrs. W. L. Windrow in presenting this important subject.

At the conclusion of the program a social hour was enjoyed, during which time the hostesses served a delicious plate lunch, in buffet style, consisting of chicken sandwiches, molded fruit salad, cookies and iced tea, to the seventeen guests present.

SAN ANTONIO DENTIST WOUNDED NEAR NATALIA

Dr. J. M. Bradford, a prominent San Antonio dentist, was seriously wounded Thursday morning, November 13, in a shooting at his former home near Natalia in Medina County. H. B. Stiles, tenant on the farm owned by Dr. Bradford, was arrested later by Sheriff Chas. J. Schuchle and placed in the county jail in Hondo.

Stiles, charged with assault with intent to murder, waived examining trial and was placed under $1,000 bond. He has refused to make any statement about the shooting, we were informed.

The Medina County officers are working on the case but very little has been learned about the cause of the shooting. According to the story told police by the doctor's wife, Dr. Bradford was in the house and his son and daughter-in-law were waiting for him outside in the car. They heard three shots fired, and the younger Bradford was alleged to have been threatened with a small pistol when he went to investigate.

The injured man was placed in the car and taken to Lytle from where he was carried by ambulance to a San Antonio hospital. He was found to have two bullet wounds in his body. Latest reports are that after an operation and blood transfusion his condition is improved.

Stiles is from Oklahoma and has been living on Dr. Bradford's farm for a year or more.

LIONS CLUB MEETS

Lion President R. C. Rath appointed four important committees to head Lion Club activities for the coming months, at Wednesday's regular luncheon. Ed Buchhorn was named chairman of the Safety Committee, and Alfred Schweers his assistant. The first step to be taken by this committee is to start the marking of Hondo streets Friday night following the football game.

J. G. Barry was appointed to head the Federal Building Committee and N. C. Johnson his assistant. Lion Barry is in receipt of a letter from Congressman Milton H. West, explaining the situation at present. The letter is given below.

Edgar Stiegler, chairman, and his committeemen, Marvin F. Schweers and Frank Buske, are to go into plans for obtaining a street sweeper for Hondo.

A committee to investigate a system of cold storage plants or freezer lockers is headed by R. R. Corder and includes Ted Bredthauer, Bob DePuy and C. D. Sadler.

The bridge tournament being sponsored by the Hondo Lions Club got under way Tuesday night, November 18, and is to continue for five consecutive weeks until December 16th. Eight tables of players are taking part in the tournament and winner of high score for the night was C. D. Sadler.

CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES

House of Representatives
Washington, D. C.
November 3, 1941.

Mr. J. Gordon Barry,
Hondo, Texas.

My dear Friend:

This will acknowledge your letter of October 30, stating that Hondo is very much interested in securing a Federal Post Office building.

Due to the huge sums of money it is necessary to appropriate for our National Defense Program, all non-defense appropriations are being eliminated or greatly reduced and it is expected that no appropriations will be made for the construction of Federal buildings until after the present emergency.

When the Federal building program is resumed, you may be sure that I shall do my utmost to be of assistance to the citizens of Hondo.

With kind regards and cordial best wishes, I am,

Sincerely your friend,
MILTON H. WEST.

DEER SEASON OPENS

Deer and turkey hunting season opened Sunday, November 16, and many hunters have arrived in Medina County to try their shooting skill in a county noted for its plentiful game. It is difficult to ascertain just how much game has been killed to date, but among the lucky deer hunters were Clinton Jagge and his mother, Mrs. P. C. Jagge, Charles Finger, and Frank Rucker. Ward Boehme killed a 7-point buck about fifteen minutes after starting out on a Rio Medina ranch early in the morning of opening day. Among the more youthful nimrods, Horace Britsch, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Britsch, killed his first buck, a 6-pointer, Tuesday afternoon. It was the first time he had used his father's rifle, and he says he got his deer the hard way—on the run.

MANY SAW THE WHALE

A constant stream of visitors poured through the Pan-American Train Shows car last Saturday to see the whale and other attractions offered. One who had never seen a whale could scarcely conceive of its vast proportion, but viewing this one's remains convinces that Jonah found ample accommodations in the matter of room if nothing else.

While the mermaid's faded complexion was disappointing to those Johnnies who had looked forward to a flirtation, the performance of the vivacious sword swallower was not without its compensations, and the sleight of hand performer's stunts are still a mystery.

SPECIAL TRAIN GOES TO DEL RIO

About 250 football fans rode the special train to Del Rio last Friday for the Hondo-Del Rio game. The train left the local station at 4 p. m., reached its destination at 7 p. m., left for the return trip immediately after the game and got to Hondo at about 1:30 a. m. Saturday morning. The throng was happy enough on the way over, but was hilarious on the trip back—due, doubtless, to the high spirits over winning the game.

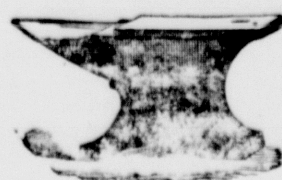

CLOSING NOTICE

We are requested to announce that the offices at the County court-house will be closed Thursday, November 27, in observance of Thanksgiving Day. The public is requested to take due notice and avoid inconvenience.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS AND CORRESPONDENTS

Next Thursday will be Thanksgiving Day. Please favor us by sending in your copy early so that the printers can observe the great national holiday.

THE LAST OF A GENERATION

"Mother died, 11 o'clock Wednesday night, Brownie."

The above message in the form of a telegram from a cousin of the managing editor of this paper, Mrs. Stotz, of Memphis, Tennessee, dated 7:47 a. m., November 13, 1941, brought the news of the passing of the last from among the living of the generation of brothers, sisters and their wives and husbands to which his parents belonged.

Mrs. Margaret Lockhart was the widow of T. J. Lockhart, a younger brother of our mother. While this relationship meant no blood kinship, that relationship could scarcely have added to the deep affection we have had from our earliest childhood for our "Aunt Mag." Her passing breaks another of the few strong links left to bind our affections to our boyhood home. One of the chief pleasures of our last summer's visit to those old familiar scenes was an all-too-brief visit to her in her daughter's home, though it was not unsaddened at the time with the thought that the accumulation of her some ninety years and the consequent frailties meant that she could not be spared to us much longer. Now she is gone.

Her passing calls up retrospective thoughts on our own life. The tenth child of a mother who herself had been orphaned at nine years of age, we never knew our grandparents. We never knew but one member of the generation to which belonged our grand-parents, Charles and Emeline Bailey Lockhart and Francis Marion and Margaret Douglass Davis. And one of the most vivid memories of our earliest childhood is the recollection of the passing of the last of that generation, great-Aunt Martha Lockhart, widow of William Lockhart, our grandfather's brother.

As a child, we grew up on a farm within sight of where our grandfather settled in Marshall County, Mississippi, when he immigrated to that state from North Carolina in the middle 1830's. Around us on every side were uncles and aunts of the Lockhart posterity, and only an old worm rail fence separated the farms of our father and Uncle Tom. Now we have seen the passing of the last of that generation. Furthermore, while Aunt Mag reared to womanhood seven daughters, and is mourned by the six of those who survive her, with their children and grandchildren, she lost her two boys—one in infancy and the other in young manhood—so that none are left to bear the Lockhart name, and save for a great-granddaughter of Charles Lockhart, his, and his brothers' name has faded from the living.

Thus is one vividly reminded of the mutations of time and how completely they operate. "All that live must die." And those who, like the Aunt we mourn, are given a long life, at most, are here but a brief span. Without the hope that this life is but a probation period in the hands of an all-wise, all-merciful Creator for the fulfillment of a greater destiny for the soul, life would seem but an empty jest. "All that live must die."

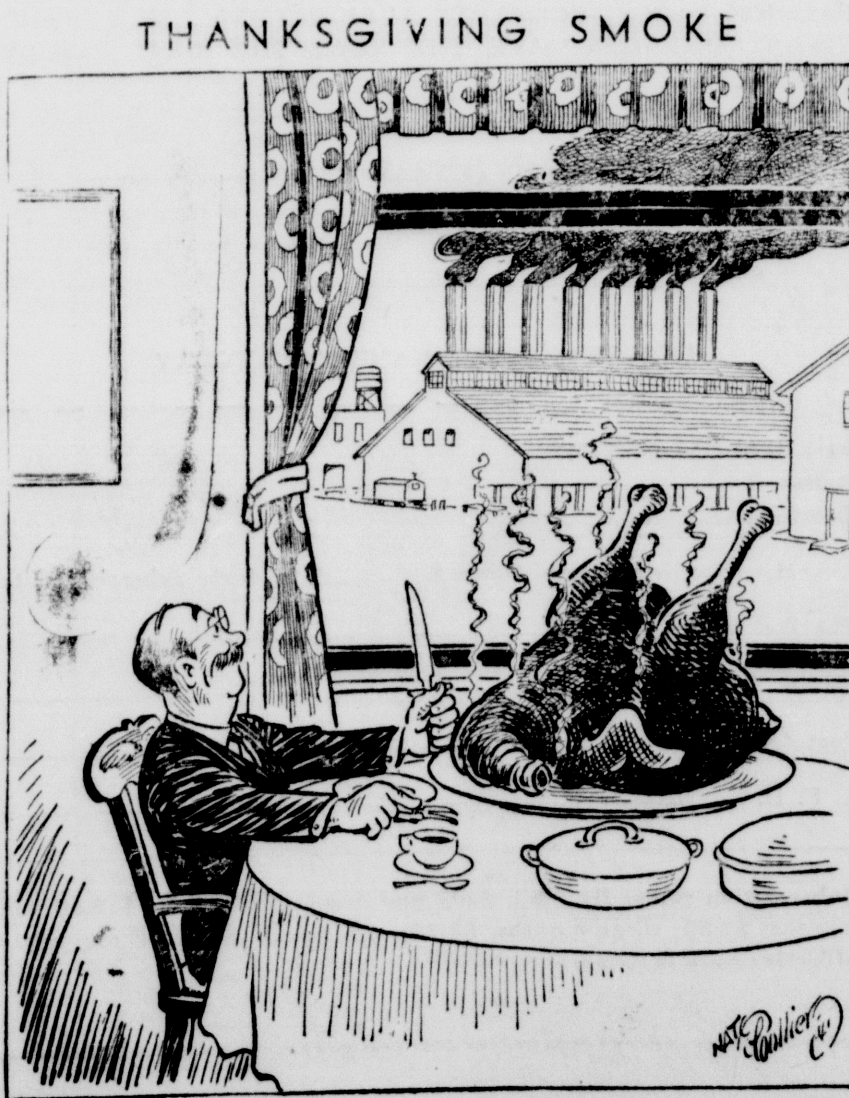

But—

"Dust to dust returnest
Was not spoken of the soul."

And from that thought we take comfort in the hope that beyond the night of death there lies the dawn of a bright, eternal day.

And while we grieve at the sun-drenched ties that bound us in love to not only this last of her generation but the generation as well, we are comforted with the thought—
All is well!

Since the above was written another telegram from Memphis, Tennessee, brought the sad news of the passing of another last—Mrs. Emily Roper, the last of our eight sisters, died early in the night of Tuesday, November 18, 1941. Of our family of thirteen, eight sisters and five brothers, only two brothers remain alive. By a strange coincidence, the elder is the second oldest of the sons and the fourth from the first, the writer is fourth from the last and the second last son. We are waiting for more of the details about the funeral of this loved one. At present, we can say no more!

CHARACTERS IN "UNCLE JOE"

FARM FOLK GUESTS OF E. R. LEINWEBER CO. FOR JOHN DEERE DAY

The E. R. Leinweber Co., John Deere dealer, of Hondo, again was host of a successful John Deere Day, having farmers and their families as its guests for an all-day celebration Tuesday, November 18.

The morning's program consisted of a demonstration of the Letz feed mill at the Company's warehouse, followed by several educational movie shorts on John Deere equipment at the Raye Theatre. This was climaxed by a free barbecue dinner at noon, at which some two hundred and fifty people enjoyed a lunch of barbecued meat, pickles, bread, and coffee.

In the afternoon the main picture show feature was presented at the Raye Theatre. This was a lively, all-talking picture, "Uncle Joe", produced in Hollywood last summer, and featuring such stars as Slim Summerville, Zasu Pitts, and Gale Storm. The film was packed with laughs, sentiment and catchy music.

In addition to "Uncle Joe", four other pictures were shown, of an educational nature. They were: "The Sheppards of Friendly Valley", in which Fred Sheppard, an old friend of previous John Deere Days, brought much of his wholesome philosophy of life; "A Line on Combines", an educational picture which took all behind the scenes in building John Deere combines; "Tractor Fuels and Tractors", an enlightening picture for farmers interested in lowering their production costs; and a short news reel, "What's New in Farm Equipment in 1942".

At the close of the show, seven valuable gifts were awarded to the following: Mrs. Ed Faseler, Mrs. Robert Nietenhoefer, Mrs. H. W. McClain, Ed Faseler, Hugo Saathoff, Arnold Wendland and Paul Bendele.

The John Deere Day program offered much pleasure and information which will long be remembered by those who shared in E. R. Leinweber Company's hospitality.

Texas business during August chalked up a 6-point gain over the preceding month, and evidenced indications of further expansion before the end of the year, University of Texas business statisticians report. The University's Bureau of Business Research pegged a composite index of six important business factors at 124.4, compared to 118.1 a month earlier and 100.6 in August, 1940. All except one of these factors showed improvement over July and all gained substantially over August, a year ago: Employment—up 1.5 points above July, 14 points above August 1940. Payrolls—up 4.2 and 19.1 points respectively. Southwest miscellaneous freight carloadings—up 1 and 19.4 points, respectively. Department store sales—up 23.8 and 14.5 points, respectively. Electric power consumption—up 7.7 and 35.3 points respectively. Runs of crude oil to refineries—up 15.8 points above August, 1940, but down 14.3 points from July, 1941. Other business indices tabulated by the bureau likewise revealed favorable changes: Commercial failures—only half as many as a year ago. Charters granted to new firms—$1,309,000 of new capital invested, compared to $1,205,000 in August a year ago, though fewer firms incorporated. Postal receipts—up 9.2 per cent from August, 1940. Building permits—up 27.6 per cent from July, though down 5.9 per cent from August, 1940. Lumber—production up 13.3 per cent and shipments up 16.1 per cent over August, 1940. A sharp decline—24 per cent—in savings bonds purchases was noted, perhaps due to rising purchases of defense bonds.

RURAL TRENDS

NEW OPPORTUNITY

The farms of America have always been the home of opportunity. They have always been America's best and healthiest homes, and have afforded more real security than any other type of work.

During the years of our agricultural growth as a nation, when our pioneers were opening new lands, and cultivating the vast fallow areas of our central and western plains, there was a constant market for all of our surplus crops. It wasn't necessary to organize farming for increased production.

Farmers raised first what they needed for their families. They followed habit or tradition in the crops they selected and in the methods they followed. Somebody could be found to buy what was left over. All farmers had enough to eat, and many grew rich by farming for surplus—for the market.

This undirected production finally ran against a snag. We systematized and mechanized large operation farming until we began to raise too much of a few leading crops, such as corn, wheat, cotton and tobacco. Unwanted surpluses of these crops caused prices to fall. It became harder to make money on a farm. We had crop restrictions and farm foreclosures.

And the wiser of our farmers began to learn something they had never before thought of. They found out that farming was just like any other business, in that producing too much of anything was not sound economy. That started the era of diversified farming, an idea that has seen great developments.

Now we are entering still another era in agriculture—the era of planned farming.

We must still have diversification. We must still be intelligent enough to avoid raising too much of certain staples.

But agriculture is due to have its greatest age of prosperity if we only remember that it is better business to raise crops for which there is demand rather than raise the crops first and then try to find the demand.

The family we must feed has grown over night. It now looks although we would have to feed, in the interest of both humanity and national defense, a great part of the population of the British Isles. Soon we may add to our list of boarders from continental Europe.

The demand for the products of America's agriculture will exceed anything we have ever known before.

For example, the last lend-lease bill to pass Congress allocated nearly 2 billion dollars for food to go across the Atlantic. We are told that this is merely the beginning. Our Department of Agriculture is urging us to plan on increasing the volume of certain crops almost without any limit at all.

As a single instance, take soy beans. Our 1936-41 average acreage in this crop is 3,433,000 acres. In 1941, we shall raise about five and a half million acres. In 1942 we are asked by our Government to plant over 7 million acres. That is more than doubling the acreage in this valuable crop in two years' time!

We counsel every farmer to read, in government bulletins and in his farm papers, about the requirements of the next year or two. Then he should determine what his land will best produce among the crops in which there is both the greatest shortage and the greatest demand. And then raise those crops.

That is the new order in Agriculture for America. It is a direct road to prosperity.

MRS. JULIA NEUMAN PASSES

Funeral services were held for Mrs. Julia Neuman Saturday, November 15, at 2 P. M. from Horger's funeral home. The services were conducted by Rev. A. H. Falkenberg, pastor of the Zion's Lutheran Church of Castrovilla, and the body was laid to rest in Oakwood cemetery. Pallbearers were all grandsons of the deceased.

Mrs. Neuman died at 2:15 A. M. Friday, November 14, 1941, at the home of her oldest daughter, Mrs. Jacob Fohn, near Hondo. She was born at Vandenburg on December 6, 1855, and had, therefore, reached the age of 85 years, 11 months and 8 days at the time of her passing. She was the daughter of Fritz and Philippina Mumme. She was married on September 21, 1872, to Thomas F. Neuman, who preceded her in death by 14 years. To their union were born ten children, five of whom preceded their mother in death, three during infancy. The two eldest sons, August died January 15, 1926, and Louis, on May 27, 1939. She is survived by two sons and three daughters, namely, Mrs. Jacob Fohn, William F. Neuman, Thomas J. Neuman, Mrs. Gus R. Mann and Mrs. D. G. Mann, all of Medina County. Also surviving are 26 grandchildren and 18 great grandchildren. Her sister, Mrs. Augusta Weltner, and two brothers, Louis and August Mumme, all preceded her in death.

A large cortege of sorrowing relatives and friends followed the remains to their last resting place, and the grave was covered with beautiful flowers, last and fitting respects paid this pioneer lady.

May she rest in peace.

SPALDING, AMERICAN VIOLINIST, IN CONCERT IN SAN ANTONIO, NOV. 26

SAN ANTONIO—Albert Spalding, distinguished American violinist, will appear as guest soloist with the Symphony Society of San Antonio under Max Reiter's Baton on Wednesday, November 26th, 1941, at the Municipal Auditorium in San Antonio. Tickets are $1.00, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00 plus 10% Federal Tax, and may be purchased now through mail order addressed to 905 Alamo National Bank Bldg., or at the Municipal Auditorium Box Office beginning Wednesday, November 19th, 1941.

In the course of a brilliant career, the name of Albert Spalding has gathered to itself a world-wide significance. Today, in whatever language of the civilized globe, it is synonymous with great violin-playing. There is scarcely a musical center of the universe where he has not appeared, and by his masterful performances refuted once and for all the American credo that no native artist can compete with the foreign artist.

From the day when he made his professional debut in Paris at the age of sixteen, his career has been a triumphal ascent to the pinnacle he now occupies. He has played before royalty, was decorated with the Crown of Italy by the Italian Government, and by France with the rosette of the Legion of Honor. Each season finds him setting a new record in nation-wide concert tours, playing recitals and appearing as soloist with the world's leading orchestras.

IN MEMORIAM

In love of our departed husband and father.

BANDERA NEWS

The Bandera New Era. MISS DOROTHY HICKS MARRIED

A pretty wedding was solemnized in San Antonio last Sunday morning at 10:30, in the Pan American Room of the Gunter Hotel, when Miss Dorothy Hicks of Tarpley became the bride of Mr. T. Felix Brandt of Orange, Texas, Rev. Hardy of the Travis Park Methodist Church officiating. The ring ceremony was used. The bride wore a rust colored suit with brown accessories. Her corsage was talisman roses.

Only members of the families of the bride and groom and a few friends were present. After the ceremony a reception was held, and a delightful luncheon was served, covers being laid for about thirty guests.

The ceremony was marked by simplicity throughout. There were no attendants, the bride and groom entered the room together and marched up to the altar where the minister awaited, and there pronounced the vows which united them in the holy bonds of matrimony. Immediately following the reception and luncheon they departed for Orange, Texas, where they will reside.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Hicks of Tarpley. She is one of our dearest girls, and is known and loved by a large circle of friends. After completing her high school studies she entered Our Lady of the Lake College in San Antonio, where she obtained her B. A. and B. S. degrees, majoring in art and in library science. For the past several years she has been a librarian in the Harris County Public Library at Houston. She is a very gifted, talented young woman, of a sweet disposition, and the groom is certainly to be congratulated in winning her heart and hand.

The groom is a sterling young man, of high ideals and genial personality. He is an employee of the Consolidated Steel Corporation of California, with headquarters at Orange.

Miss Gladys Eckhart and about twenty-five friends of San Antonio enjoyed a barbecue at the ranch home of her mother, Mrs. A. G. Eckhart Sunday.

Elmer Sprott, son of Otto Sprott of Tarpley, and Miss Esther Newman of Quilhi were married at Quilhi last night.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hubble and Mrs. Hubble's father, Pete Rotge of Hunt visited friends and relatives here Saturday afternoon. From here they went to visit Mr. and Mrs. John Rotge and daughter at Hondo Saturday night and Sunday.

Miss Merle Dean MacNaughton, who is teaching school at May, is at home to recuperate from an attack of pneumonia.

BIG FARMS VS. SMALL FARMS

There is a homely old saying, something our fathers used to say to keep us from eating too much—"your eyes are bigger than your stomach."

Maybe it would be a good thing if some of us farmers had a friendly warning like that whispered in our ear.

The history of business is full of instances where a man may have been very successful in running a small store or a small factory. Then he got ambitious to become bigger, and in the process, suffered a good many growing pains.

Sometimes it isn't easy to see where running a big business—or big farm—differs from running a small one. The difference is a great deal more than merely dealing with larger figures. Success and profit are not always in direct proportion to the size of the enterprise.

Let's look, for example, at the man who makes a success out of a family farm of 100 to 200 acres. He does well with it because his management gets into the details of the farm's work. He can watch everything. He has only one or two hired helpers to oversee. Often all the work is done by members of the family. The whole operation is flexible and adaptable, because it is always under the direct eye of the owner—under control.

Now put the same man on a farm of 500 acres. The picture changes. Parts of the farm are a mile away from headquarters, a mile away from the house and the main barn. There is more help to be watched—more planning to be done.

No matter how good a farmer that man is, he can no longer watch everything, and still find time to do his share of the work. Important small things are likely to be overlooked or get away from him. It is harder to get the work done on time. It is harder to prevent the small losses and wastes that mean so much in the year's profits.

The job of bringing the crops to market is bigger. There is more investment of time, work and money in a single crop than before. Therefore a greater part of the farmer's stake is at the mercy of the weather, or of changing market conditions.

We have heard of a good many successful small farmers who were pretty thoroughly disappointed with the results of bigger operations. They found that profits did not always increase with the size of the farm, even though the cares and the worries did increase. And the hazards, too.

Of course, there are many instances of successful large farm operations. We are not presuming to advise anybody against "taking in more territory."

But we do want to advise you, if you are thinking in terms of making more money with a larger farm, to think it over pretty carefully before you take the jump. Look at every angle, and be sure you don't "bite off more than you can chew."

The multiplication table that we all learned in primary school is mighty useful invention. The trouble is that you cannot always apply the multiplication table to farming operations and be sure of getting the right answer.

A great big share of the farms in America are average size family farms. There is a reason for that. Such farms represent about all the average farmer can take care of, and do it well.

And remember this: There is no better place to live, and to bring up a family, than the American family-size farm.

Herman Mazurek made a business trip to Bandera Monday.

U. S. TRAINS YOUTHS FOR SEA

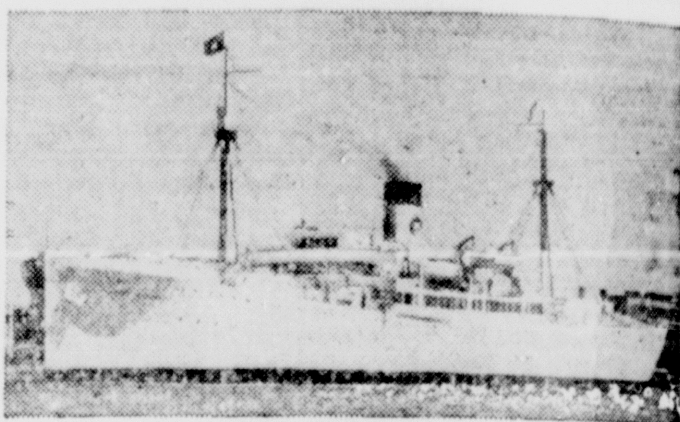

The United States Maritime Service is meeting the threatened shortage of skilled merchant seamen by training youths who have had no previous seagoing experience.

Young American citizens in good physical condition 18 to 23 years of age are being enrolled for a seven months' course of instruction in the duties of the deck, engineers, and stewards departments. Enrollees are paid $21.00 monthly; clothing, food, and quarters are furnished by the Government.

The training course qualifies these young men for jobs on American merchant vessels where pay starts at $72.50 a month with food and quarters furnished.

THE THINGS I LOVE

I love the little things in life
That often come my way,
The glory of the morning hour,
And peace at end of day.

A quiet room where nothing stirs
But music, sweet and low,
Where I may sit and rest and dream
Beside a firelight's glow.

I love a row of candlesticks,
Of colors, blue and gold,
And table set with china, sprigged,
Of fashion, very old.

Old gardens, too, they have a lure,
The scent of mint, rain-sweet,
And how I love bright daffodils
Near by a garden seat.

I love the smell of wet, fresh earth,

And wood-smoke in the air,
The crunching snow beneath my feet,
And breezes in my hair.

And when without, the wild wind blows,
The storm I shall not fear.
It always comforts me to know
The things I love are near.

MAISON ROUGE SITE—This old house in Galveston is believed to have been built over the original site of Jean Lafitte's Maison Rouge, or "red house," headquarters of his commune on the eastern end of the island. There are numerous underground cisterns and a thick composition stone wall that extends far into the ground. The cisterns and walls are made of a material common in the early Florida buildings and used extensively in Lafitte's time, but afterwards replaced by concrete. These and other indications seem to substantiate the general belief that this old structure covers the ruins of the "red house" of the buccaneer.

PETRIFIED TREE TRUNKS—Tourists can view this scene on State Hy. 85, north of Eagle Pass in Maverick County. It is known as the "Dry Water Hole," and remains of old time prairie schooners testify to its history. It also offers quite a display of petrified tree trunks, as shown in the picture.

Washington
Snapshots
by JAMES PRESTON
Not much statistical information
is the progress of our defense production is likely to get in the press
the immediate future. The President announced that after November
the OPM would keep the details secret. Observers in Washington had been expecting some such clampdown because of the worry in London that such information was valuable to the Nazis. London especially complained that our stories on production were too good a tip-off for Berlin.
And so even though the OPM
can't say it, experts in Washington
are greatly cheered by our aircraft output. They see our American warplane production as just about reaching 2,400 a month by this year's end and by the middle of next year, it could be well over the 3,000 mark.
The increase in production is almost unbelievable: from 70 planes, mostly biplanes, in October, 1939, to 742
in October, 1940, to between 1,500 and 2,200 last month.
Add to the fact that nowhere has there ever been such a remarkable increase in production, the fact that American planes are proving themselves better than the German ones, and the further fact that each month our planes become bigger, bigger, more technically superior.
The main interest of everyone, of course, is how our production compares with that of Germany. Well, one knows exactly what goes on in Germany, but a good deal of pretty reliable information
from Germany and the conquered countries can be pieced together.
German production appears to be somewhere around our total—perhaps 2,300 planes monthly. On this basis it's pretty obvious that Britain, with her 1,900 planes produced a month, can, with American aid, more than equal the output of Germany, Italy and anything received from conquered European countries.
Airplane engines—once termed a serious bottleneck—are no worry these days. Three companies—the Ford & Whitney division of United Aircraft Corp., Wright Aeronautical
Corp., and the Allison division of General Motors—are now making the best guessimates of production by the Nazis. Germany is said to be getting out between 3 and 4 million horsepower per month, plus the small help from the French units taken over. Three companies are now producing an estimated 4.6 million horsepower per month, by the middle of next year their production should be 8 million horsepower monthly. In addition, airplane engines will be forthcoming from Ford, Buick, Chevrolet,
Packard, Continental and Jacobs.
When the war record is written,
probably the most dramatic industrial chapter will tell of this feat of the American industry of learning in one year to turn planes off the assembly line—planes that Under Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson has said are the "best planes in the world,"

able to outfly, outclimb, outshoot
and outmaneuver "the latest models produced by a certain nation that boasted not long ago that it had the best."

BILLYE MERRITT IN CONCERT
Rehearsals are in full swing at the University of Texas as both the University Symphony Orchestra and Glee Clubs "tune up" for their first concerts of the current season, to be given within the next two weeks.
The orchestra comes first, on November 20, with the first of three public concerts for this year. This marks the fourth year of the existence of the campus symphony, which in that time has grown from a membership of 35 to nearly twice that number. The first year, the orchestra made no public appearances at all,
but last season was heard "in action"
five times.
The program for this year includes three concerts, two appearances with the University Chorus, and a part in the Round-Up celebration next spring.
When the curtain goes up for the orchestra's initial performance next week Billye Merritt, education major from Hondo, will be in the second violin section.
The Glee Clubs are much older than the orchestra, and will present their fall concert on November 24.
The theme of the program is to be "Music of America," and many of the composers represented are living in America at the present time.
Folk songs, spirituals, sea chan-teys, Mexican songs, and popular music are all listed on the Glee Clubs' first offering. Small ensembles groups are to be featured in addition to the regular chorus numbers.

Manufacture of American cheese
during August climbed 34.2 per cent
over August a year ago, ice cream
24. per cent and butter 16.9 per cent. Factories turning out these products used 25,000,000 pounds
more raw milk for August's production than a year ago, taking 145-294,000 pounds for conversion into 2,302,000 pounds of cheese, 4,405-900 pounds of butter and 1,757,000 gallons of ice cream. Production of these products has been steadily climbing this year, output for the first eight months of 1941 exceeding the similar period of 1940 as follows: butter, up 29.6 per cent,
cheese, up 10 per cent, ice cream up 22.8 per cent.

Rooney, Judy Garland, Lewis Stone,

Holden, Sara Haden and Patricia Dane.

OUR MONTHLY MEDITATION
Jesus answered and said unto them, Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up.—John 2:19.
Jesus had cleansed the temple in Jerusalem with a high hand and without consulting the temple authorities. A house of prayer that temple should be in purpose and intent,
where every thought and sentiment
was to be centered on the holiness, the mercy and kindness of God in pure and unadulterated heart service. No, that was not the spirit of the majority. Business was the main issue, the tyrannical master that whipped all other issues into line.
Business was the altar on which all else, even truth, honesty, sincerity and piety, was sacrificed. They've tried hard to make God's business subservient to puny man's bartering and bickering and reckless profiteering. The temple, in due course, became the first hand and most convenient emporium, the chief trade-center, to fleece and flay both native and foreigner from the Jewish colonies, and do it, as it was taken,
with divine sanction and approbation.
What Jesus did, met with firm protest. His motive was not understood, but rather suspected, aspersed with slanderous insinuations. A sign, a proof was insisted upon, to show his legal right for that temple interference. His answer was prompt. No embarrassment, no evasion, no stalling for time, no diplomatic subterfuge, no chatting and jumping on other subjects, no apologetic, smiling smile to be interpreted as, No harm meant, don't take it so serious; just "campaign oratory,"
a little publicity stunt, a pardonable effort to gather a little notoriety!
Blast the very thought that Christ should have stooped to such and similar modern maneuvers! His was a totally different spirit. No guile, no duplicity in Him. For proof as to his authority in that temple purge, ie, indeed, might have offered a number of valid and sufficient reasons. He could have alluded to His personal character that could not conceive of any wrong. He might have referred to His various sublime and public discourses that always strove for the highest moral ideals.

And, certainly, He could have mentioned the record of His miracles that, beyond a doubt, proved His love for the welfare and highest levels of His people, and, to be sure, also fully demonstrated that He was working with supernatural resources and that He was speaking and acting as the fully invested ambassador of the Highest Being imaginable, of God Himself; that He was more than all that, namely the Son of God and,
as such, capable and entrusted with every legitimate right to take care of His Father's business here on earth, including the avowed use of that temple, erected in His honor.
Our text gives His answer. Does it surprise you? Those Jews did not understand it. As realists and materialists, and quick at figures, they discard it with sneer and ridicule.
Forty-six years in building, with many common laborers and artisans of the best type, and with practically inexhaustible funds, and this fellow will do the same job in three days, single-handed? There is something radically wrong with that man.
They are stunned, speechless, rather remarkable in that race.
Even His disciples did not grasp the word and the situation. After His death and resurrection on the third day, the true meaning dawned on them, that He had referred to His body. And what do you make of that answer of His? Surprising language all around. Do you notice His foreknowledge, His prevision, of death and resurrection with full precision? That He is the author and agent of His own resurrection? That His body is the temple, the meeting-place where God and Man meet?
That His resurrection is the crowning feature, the most essential item, in all His Messianic personality and activity, so that your body and soul
may become an abode of God, a "building of God, the house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens" by His very resurrection? Could He have offered a greater and more striking proof to those quibbling Jews, for His authority in that temple act, a greater proof for the need of His appearance here on earth? A Christianity without a resurrected Savior is a dead Christianity, and all your faith and love and hope would be sheer and staggering imagination.—C. W.

DEFENSE BOND QUIZ

Q. Who said: "I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country?"
A. Nathan Hale, who gave his life for America, like great numbers of his fellow countrymen. We are only asked to lend our dollars for Defense
Bonds and Stamps to defend the liberty for which they died.
Q. Where I work there is no payroll allotment plan for the buying of Defense Savings Bonds and Stamps.
How can I get one started?
A. This depends on your position, and the kind of organization in which you are employed. Generally speaking, your immediate superior would be the proper person to receive your suggestion that you would like to have a voluntary pay-roll allotment plan introduced. The firm's bank can supply information about such a plan.
Note.—To buy Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office, bank, or savings and loan association; or write to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C. Also Stamps now are on sale
at retail stores.

THEY SAY THAT—
They say there's good in everything
if one can find it.
The clock that simply will not run—
we need not wind it!

SCHOOL NEWS

From The Owl:

DEFEAT DEL RIO 39 TO 6

The Owls journeyed to Del Rio last Friday and defeated the Del Rio Wildcats in a runaway game. The football squad made the trip on the bus, while the fans and the pep squad made it in the special train.

The first quarter was nip and tuck with neither team scoring, but the Owls got hot in the second quarter and scored two touchdowns and Finger converted once. The Wildcats also slipped by the Owls right end for a score late in the second period, so that at the half the score was 13 to 6 in favor of the Owls.

The second half saw the Owls living up to expectations. They rolled up 26 points before the pistol ended the game and held the Wildcats scoreless. The Owls' passing attack clicked for several good gains and Finger broke loose once for a 70-yard gallop on a line plunge. He also kicked two of the three conversions, while Hollmig kicked the other. Hollmig's passing was good and Dawson and Finger "snared" a lot of them sometimes in the most awkward positions. The Wildcats' defense was fairly good in the first part of the game but the Owls tore it up the second half.

PEP SQUAD PERFORMANCE

The formation used to come on the field Friday night at the Hondo-Del Rio game was different from any the Pep Squad has used before. A single line was formed at the goal from which the Pep Squad marched in twos, keeping the form of a V until they reached the opposite end of the field. There, ranks of fours were formed in which the girls marched to the center of the field where they formed the V, and three dots and a dash for victory were made.

After having left the field, the usual V was made at the goal posts.
